

IN DEAD EARNEST.

Friends of Silver Hate to Oppose Cleveland,
But Their Principles Compel Them to Do It.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.

Figuring on the Number of Democrats in It.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—[Special.]—When the chilling vote descended upon the house and the cause of silver fell, as it were, with a dull and sickening thud, there were enough optimistic Democrats to say, "Oh, this irritation will pass away, and these fellows will give it up and be ready before long to endorse the president, because they cannot afford to have a split in the party in their districts." But it has not turned out so. If one may take the past fortnight's talk as decisive, the western and southern Democrats are more determined than they ever have been.

"In fact," say Mr. Bailey of Texas, Mr. Bryan of Nebraska and many others, "we are just getting in real dead earnest. It is all nonsense to talk of going on in the old way any longer, and we have been telling those timid fellows so ever since last August. It is all a mistake to say that a party is ruined by differing from its president on some point of policy. There was Abe Lincoln, who got up a complete scheme of reconstruction and virtually promised that any Confederate state could come in whenever 10 per cent of its voters took part in the election for Union congressmen. His party just laughed at his 10 per cent governments, kicked his whole scheme to pieces and went their way."

"They repudiated his policy, but I don't see how they could have done so," says Mr. Hayes, who wanted the greenbacks reduced to $300,000,000 and was just as frantic against silver as Mr. Cleveland is, but congress passed the note over his veto, and the Republicans who voted against him were re-elected by the same constituencies which endorsed Hayes. So we shall endorse Mr. Cleveland's administration and buck against his veto, and we shall win. It is a little fact worth noting that the presidents have been opposed to silver without regard to party, while the people have repeatedly shown that they favored it by re-electing the congresses which voted for it."

Life Pence's Views.
Of course the anti-silver Republicans enjoy the discomfiture of their Democratic fellows, but some of the silver Republicans sink their heads and admit that they were somewhat in the fix of that country boy who was not quite sure what he was doing in the bushes and so "shot just near enough to hit it if it were a deer and miss if it were a calf." They confess a kind of willingness that the Democrats should legislate for more silver without making any Republicans responsible for the "sort of force it on them," as it were. But most delighted of all are the Populists, who can already read their titles clear to 50 cents in the next house. Says Life Pence: "It doesn't amount to a hill of beans practically. The bill didn't call for any more silver than the constitution, and the government is already supposed to have. The silver men's support of it was pretty much sentiment anyhow, and the opposition to it is Wall street sentiment, and that goes with the president and the eastern members of both parties. Now this veto clears away the rubbish and leaves western men to excuse. Now we can get down to business and begin an honest fight, with no Democratic excuses in the way—none out west anyhow."

Silver at All Hazards.
It is well that somebody is cheerful over the prospects for a clear majority of the Democrats freely admit that they are cast down. There have been more writing of platforms for county and district conventions to adopt and more sending of private letters of advice to country editors and local party managers than for many a day. Occupants of the newspaper gallery are frequently appealed to for judgment on these documents, and the ingenuity displayed in them to endorse the administration and yet insist on more silver is amusing. On one point every Democrat west of Ohio, with perhaps two or three exceptions, is positive, and it is stated in these words: "If there must be a split, we are for silver. Sorry to antagonize the president, but our people's minds are set."

Another infant industry greatly fostered by the snails and hurly burly of the past fortnight is that of making up lists of the next house. One Republican calculation runs like this: "We shall carry every northern district in which the present member's plurality does not exceed 2,000, every district adversely affected by the Wilson bill regardless of majority and at least seven more southern districts than we now have, and that will give us about 40 majority in the next house." The pro-silver Democrats after a good deal of figuring present this basis of hope: "Take the center of population as it was in 1890 and draw cardinal lines through it. From south of the east and west line are 11 Republicans and 126 Democrats and Populists, and it is not possible for them to take more than 13 of those districts from us. West of the north and south line there are certainly not more than 13 districts altogether in which goldbugs can be elected. Let us lay aside this shilly-shallying and make the fight right on the basis of our principles, and we shall wipe the earth with them."

Looking Ahead.
A few New York and New England Republicans have made up lists for their own amusement and comparison, and their most liberal estimate is that the Democrats will have 131 members in the next house, but they allow them only 12 from New York; 4 each from Pennsylvania and Ohio, and but 2 from all New England. As to the anti-silver Democrats, they are not indulging in figures at present, at any rate not for publication.

Such calculations may have no great value, but they serve to while away these dull days, for it is now generally conceded that appropriation bills, contested election cases, bills of a personal nature and the like will have been consumed before they are entirely done with, three times as many days as were calculated for at the beginning of the year.

JERRY SIMPSON'S SCHEME.

It is For a Big Canal Connecting Lakes Huron and Ontario.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Representative Simpson of Kansas, is preparing a joint resolution which he will soon submit to congress proposing an international commission between the United States and Canada, with a view to their co-operation in a system of canals and water ways closely connecting the great lakes with the Atlantic ocean.

Mr. Simpson who sailed the lakes in his early days, proposes a cut from Georgian bay on the east shore of Lake Huron through to Lake Ontario. This cut could be made by way of Lake Simcoe and other small lakes so that the actual cut would not be over 100 miles. It would save 800 miles in the present route through St. Clair and Detroit rivers, the entire length of Lake Erie and the Welland canal.

The proposed route from Georgian bay to Ontario, would be on Canadian soil and would have to be done either by Canada alone or by co-operation with this country.

Most of the shipping of the upper lakes is American. The great grain regions of the far northwest would thus have a direct water route to the ocean instead of a circuitous lake route to Buffalo, and trans-shipment there by rail to the seaboard.

QUIET IN COAL REGIONS.

There is No Telling However, When Trouble May Commence.

CONNEYSVILLE, Pa., April 6.—Peace once more reigns in the coal fields of this region, but no one can tell how long this condition of affairs will continue. The operators say the backbone of the strike has been broken and the end is only a few days ahead. The Frick officials at Scottsdale report everything coming out of their hands, and they do not fear any more trouble.

Cochran's Clarissa and Nellie works are guarded by twenty-five Pinkerton men, who arrived from Pittsburgh last night on the midnight train. The strikers do not think the strike is broken. The leaders say the men are gradually recovering from the confusion into which they were thrown by the arrest of the officers of their organization, and the 100 Davidson rioters. As soon as the men recover from the fright, the leaders say the strike will be renewed with more vigor than ever.

COLLEGE REPUBLICANS.

Over 200 Delegates Attend College Republican League Meeting at Syracuse.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 6.—About 200 delegates to the National College Republican League, representing 35 of the leading American colleges in Maine to California, are here to attend the annual meeting.

The colleges represented are: Harvard, Yale, Columbia, Princeton, Leland Stanford Jr., Lehigh, University of Rochester, Northwestern University, Metropolitan Law school, Earlham, Bowdoin University, Hamilton, Colgate, University of Michigan, Williams and the University of Wisconsin.

The convention which is being held in the Music hall of Crouse college, opened with an address by President Hawkins of Syracuse.

At this evening's banquet the speakers will be Roswell G. Horr, G. Sloot Fassett, John M. Langston, Prof. George Guntun of New York, ex-Senator Frank Hisecock, Theodore E. Hancock, attorney general of the state of New York, and other noted operators. Covers will be laid for 500 guests.

STARVATION'S WORK.

Another Attempted Suicide at Dolgeville, N. Y., by an Artisan.

DOLGEVILLE, N. Y., April 6.—Otter Loeffler, an artisan, was prevented from doing as Fritz Klotzler did last Friday night, murdering his wife and children and then committing suicide on account of poverty. Loeffler has been out of work for some time and has failed to provide for his family. The village authorities fearing that he would follow in the footsteps of Klotzler, went to his house and arrested him; on his person were found five razors and a bull-dog revolver. Loeffler said he would not work for $1.25 a day, and had made up his mind to kill his wife and three children and then cut his own throat.

Loeffler was confined in jail, and an effort will be made to send him to jail or else get him out of town. The man seems bound to carry out his threat. The people of Dolgeville are much wrought up over the outbreak among the anarchists, and fear an organized effort to create trouble.

BROWN SEQUARD'S ELIXIR.

Held Responsible for the Dementia of a Chicago Librarian.

CHICAGO, April 6.—To the use of Brown Sequard's elixir of life, the deranged condition of Assistant Librarian E. F. Gauss is ascribed by public librarian Frederick Hild, in an interview today. Mr. Gauss recently left home and after a long search was found in San Francisco, where he claimed he had no recollection of his long trip to the coast.

Mr. Hild said that Gauss had become nervous from overwork and had placed himself under the care of a physician. "Under the advice of a doctor he began the elixir of life treatment. It seemed to result disastrously. Gauss became more excitable and more easily distracted. His nervousness seemingly increased and then finally came his disappearance."

State's Lawyers in the Prendergast Case Apparently Lost Their Grip.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Attorney A. S. Trude said today the prosecution in the Prendergast case may ask the court to deal with the assassin as though he had escaped.

"We can go before the original court or before the supreme court," said Mr. Trude, "and ask for an order as on escape. The escape in this case is exactly the same as if the prisoner had got away instead of being in jail. There is not much hope for our side while Judge Chetlain has the case. He has the bit between his teeth and he is going it."

NEWS OF KANSAS.

Arkansas City to Make Little Robert Reeds,

By Prohibiting Use of Tobacco by Boys.

OTHER STATE NEWS.

Test Case at Ft. Scott as to Sheriff's Fees.

ARKANSAS CITY, April 6.—The city council has passed three ordinances that are exceedingly novel in their content and far reaching in their application.

The first ordinance fixes a license of $100 for selling, bartering, or giving away cigarettes or cigarette papers. The licenses expire the first days of June and December, in each year and a penalty of not more than $100 or three months imprisonment in the city jail, or both, is affixed.

The next ordinance prohibits the use of tobacco in any form upon the street or in the public places of Arkansas City, by minors below the age of 16, under a penalty of not more than $50 fine, one-half of which goes to the informer.

The last ordinance prohibits the loitering upon the streets, or in public places, of minors under the age of 18, during the hours from 8 p. m. to 6 a. m., from October to March, inclusive, and during the hours from 9 p. m. to 5 a. m. for the other months in the year. The penalty for violation of this ordinance is $25 fine and cost of prosecution. These ordinances take effect upon the 1st of May.

WON'T GIVE UP HIS FEES.

Sheriff Allen of Bourbon, Says Law Reducing His Salary Won't Hold.

FORT SCOTT, April 6.—Last Saturday was the end of the first quarter after the special law regulating the salaries of the county officers had taken effect with the sheriff and register of deeds. According to the provisions of the law, Register of Deeds Ury and Sheriff Allen should have on that day filed with the county clerk a report of the business of their offices, and turned into the county treasury the amount of receipts over and above what was allowed them under the reduced salaries. Mr. Ury filed his report, and delivered to the county treasurer $216, which amount he had collected in excess of his salary.

Sheriff Allen failed to do so, and he today said that he proposed not to comply with the law on the ground that it was unconstitutional. He has arrived at this determination after consulting eminent legal authority. The section of the law which affects his salary reads as follows:

"The sheriff of Bourbon county shall receive as full compensation for his services eighty per centum of the amount allowed him under the general law, and which shall be by him collected."

This is a reduction of 20 per cent in the salary of the sheriff, which has heretofore consisted of $1,000 per annum. Mr. Allen sets up that the law is unconstitutional in that it, in an indirect way, levies a direct tax of 20 per cent upon litigants in court.

CRIME IN ATCHISON.

As Shown in the Police Department Report for March.

ATCHISON, April 6.—Evidence of the hard times is furnished by the fact that of the fifty-three persons arrested last month, excepting those fined for conducting "necessary evils," only $89 was paid in cash, although the fines amounted to $275.

The joints, houses of ill-repute, and gamblers, paid $1,615, and there were also a number of back fires. The police were vigilant during the month, and made over a hundred arrests. There was an epidemic of drunkenness and worthlessness last month, twenty-four men being arrested on the first charge and fifteen on the second. Most of the men in question got into mischief because they were not employed and few of them had money to pay their fines.

There was a big force on the rockpile all month. About a dozen women were mixed up in quarrels last month, but they were all fined lightly. Even the jointists were hard up, and four of them could not pay their fines. One of them was able to pay only $10 of his $100 fine. Only three persons were arrested for stealing.

DR. RAY AT WICHITA.

He Delivers There a Lecture on Christianity.

WICHITA, April 6.—Dr. E. C. Ray delivered an address on "Christian Education" at the First Presbyterian church last night. It bristled with facts and figures proving the advantages accruing to those who receive college training.

Only one man out of 146 in the United States receives the benefit of a college education, yet, as he demonstrated by actual statistics, one-third, or perhaps two-fifths of all the positions as high as congressmen, or higher, are filled from the number who are college bred.

He said some very complimentary things of Lewis academy. Of the forty educational institutions in which the board of aid for academies and colleges of the Presbyterian church was interested, they consider Lewis academy the best on their list.

NEW NEWSPAPER PLANT.

The Parsons Sun to Have a Complete New Outfit.

PARSONS, April 6.—Extensive improvements are being made in the Sun office in the way of new furniture and material, and about the first of May the Sun will be printed entire from new type on new presses, with all the latest and best improvements. The paper for which will be furnished by a first class gas engine.

BEER WAR AT LEAVENWORTH.

The Foaming Beverage Only $1.50 Per Keg but Still Five Cents a Glass.

LEAVENWORTH, April 6.—Leavenworth has a beer war just now, though comparatively few people are aware of it. The "war," however, does not seem to decrease the price of the drink or augment the quantity a nickel will purchase.

The first of this week the price of beer dropped from $2 to $1.50 a keg or to $6 a barrel. Just why and how the slump was brought about is not material but at any rate C. Schmidt, agent for the Rochester company, S. H. McElroy and Brundson & Beal are in the swim as it were, and are putting their beer on the local market at the price named. The others in the local field are holding on to the old price. They assert they cannot sell beer at $1.50 a keg and make anything.

WICHITA'S DEAD ELEPHANT.

The Poor Thing Had a Big Heart, Weighed Eight Pounds.

WICHITA, April 6.—Charles Payne, who deals in wild animals and is a practical taxidermist for mammals, has disemboweled the dead elephant and put 1,200 pounds of ice in the carcass to keep it in good condition until it is disposed of.

Mr. Payne has a telegram from an eastern firm asking him to purchase it for them. He expects to skin it and get the skeleton entire. The heart weighed about eight pounds and the heart cavity was filled with about three gallons of blood, thus obstructing the valves.

It will require three days to cut up the dead animal and this with three assistants.

Military Board of Instruction.

LEAVENWORTH, April 6.—The state military board has arranged for a school of instruction at Fort Leavenworth for the officers of the Kansas National Guard. There are about 125 commissioned officers in the guard, and they will be drilled for ten days, probably in June, by officers at the fort, and Col. Townsend will deliver a series of addresses on military topics.

Brakeman Killed at McPherson.

McPHERSON, April 6.—John White, a brakeman on the Missouri Pacific road, was crushed between a freight and baggage car while coupling them this morning, the bumpers slipping past each other. His ribs were broken, but otherwise the extent of his injuries are not known.

Run Over by a Train.

HAYS CITY, April 6.—Carl Merry was run over by the west bound passenger train last evening, cutting off his right leg above the knee and seriously bruising him about the head and body. He died from his injuries about midnight.

Burglars at Heaton.

NEWTON, April 6.—Last night the grocery store of Hizer Bros. at Heaton was broken into by burglars, the safe blown open and $300 in cash secured.

READY BISHOP VINCENT.

A Resolution in the New York Methodist Conference in Reference to Breckinridge.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The Breckinridge question came up at today's session of the New York Methodist Episcopal conference in the form of the following, offered by Rev. E. L. Hoffecker, pastor of the Church of the Savior:

Resolved, first—That we approve of the prosecution and conviction of J. Y. McKane and the political corruptionists of the United States.

Second—That we demand in the interests of religion, morality and decency, that W. C. P. Breckinridge, the self-confessed libertine, be ejected from the house of representatives, believing him unfit to represent a Christian people in the highest lawmaking body in the land.

Three—That we welcome his expulsion from congress as the measure of our abhorrence of his depraved life and the only atonement that can be made to that christian sentiment which he has so grossly outraged.

A moment of profound silence followed the reading of the resolution. A delegate asked why McKane had been dragged in, remarking that "he had been attended to." A suggestion was then made to lay the resolution on the table. The president, Bishop Vincent, however, found a way out of the difficulty.

"I think," he said, "it would be best to refer the resolution to a judicious body of five."

Without any further debate this was agreed to.

TO BUY THE VIGILANT.

James Gordon Bennett is Negotiating for Its Purchase.

NEW YORK, April 6.—James Gordon Bennett is negotiating for the purchase of the American cup defender Vigilant. In case Mr. Bennett buys the yacht, it is understood that he will take her across the ocean and race her at Nice in the third days' regatta next year, in which he recently offered $1,000 pounds for prizes.

It is probable also that the Vigilant and Valkyrie would meet in English waters to settle the claim of Lord Dunraven that his craft was always prevailing on English yachting courses. The price asked for the yacht is $30,000.

FALLS OFF ONE-HALF.

The Immigration Coming Through the Port of New York.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The report of the commissioner of immigration for the three months ending March 31, shows that 29,292 immigrants were landed, as against 49,626 for the corresponding period in 1893. Of the immigrants landed during the past three months about 40 per cent were Italians and less than 1 per cent were English-speaking people.

LONDON, April 6.—Considerable consternation prevails in the midland counties owing to the failure of Messrs. New, Francis & Garrards, solicitors of Evesham. The liabilities of the firm are estimated at $1,500,000. Its business was largely that of a private bank, and it included among its clients many farmers.

NEW DEAN INSTALLED.

Impressive Services at Grace Cathedral This Morning.

VERY REVEREND FRANK MILLSPAUGH

Installed in the Presence of a Large Body of Episcopal Clergymen from All Parts of Kansas.

The Very Reverend Frank R. Millspaugh was formally installed as dean of Grace Cathedral today by an installation service, the first of its kind ever held in the diocese of Kansas. There were present a score of ministers of the Episcopal faith, representing every part of Kansas and Oklahoma.

The church was filled before the surplined choir marched to its place singing the processional "Our Church is Our Foundation." The choir was closely followed by Bishop E. S. Thomas and Dean Millspaugh, followed by the following ministers: Rev. John Bennett of Fort Scott; Prof. S. Stimpson of Lawrence; Rev. F. K. Brooke, bishop of Oklahoma; Rev. Dr. Beatty of Newton; Rev. F. DeLong of Salina; Rev. W. W. Ayres of Lawrence; Rev. R. W. Rhames of Wichita; Rev. D. W. Howard of Kansas City; Archdeacon C. T. Brady of Manhattan; Rev. Nathaniel S. Thomas of Leavenworth; Rev. Joseph Baker of Marysville; Rev. David Brooks of Dwight; Rev. S. Bishop of Dodge City; Rev. Joseph Mayon of Ottawa; Rev. Walter Bird Clark of Ottawa; Rev. William E. Van of Winfield; Rev. Mr. Witherell of Stillwater; Rev. Mr. Harris of Oklahoma; Rev. Mr. Gill of Arapahoe, Neb.; Rev. John Henry Hopkins of Atchison.

The morning prayer was read by Rev. Dr. Beatty, who was assisted by Bishop Brooke, Rev. N. S. Thomas and Rev. R. W. Rhames. Psalms 122, 132 and 133 were read. Then the ceremony of installation was performed by Bishop Elisha S. Thomas. This ceremony consisted of the letter of installation, in which the new dean was vested with all the rights, powers and responsibilities of a rector.

Vestrymen D. C. Nellis and William Henderson formally gave to him the keys of the cathedral, after which Mr. Millspaugh promised to be faithful to his parochial duties.

Bishop Thomas delivered the sermon of the occasion, which was a scholarly and eloquent effort. He took his text from Corinthians 1-12, and he reviewed the condition of the church at Corinth at the time Paul wrote the epistle, and urged a more catholic spirit on non-essential points. Christ, he said, was the apostles, he said were not divided, and the bishop urged for a more united christianity.

The service concluded with the communion service in which Dean Millspaugh and Rev. Dr. Beatty took the leading part. This service was especially impressive and was participated in by a majority of those in the congregation. After scripture reading by Rev. Dr. Hopkins and Archdeacon Brady, the benediction was pronounced by Dean Millspaugh and the choir marched out to the recessional, followed by the participating clergy. The service lasted from 11 o'clock until 1:15.

INCITING HOMESTEADERS.

Coxey and Brown Open Old Sores by Their Speeches.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., April 6.—The possibilities were wide open here last night in the matter of the Homesteaders becoming excited and thronging to join the Commonwealth of Christ, for the frequent references of Coxey and Brown in the speeches reopened the old sores. When it is at this time impossible to accurately estimate the number of recruits from this place, a conservative opinion gives it as fifty.

These men will join the army at Bulls Run four miles above and at other adjoining points, preferring not to appear in the line of march as they pass through the main thoroughfares enroute to McKeesport. It was a quiet camp at the huge frame ice house at the foot of Amity avenue. Hay had been thrown upon the sawdust flooring and in this the men crawled, wrapping their overcoats over their heads and shoulders.

There were over 400 men in a space that would comfortably accommodate a hundred less. As a result they were wedged in as closely as corn upon the cob, several scores crawling near the horses, hoping to find the animal more liberal in his demand than shivering man.

The hour scheduled for breakfast was 9 o'clock, but it was 10 before the men were served with their rations of boiled potatoes, bologna, bread and coffee. The raw cold wind blew along the Monongahela and chilled them to the bone. More shoes were distributed today, but a majority of the recipients carry them over their shoulders, preferring not to break them in on a long march unless compelled to do so.

The total number of recruits signed Thursday were 248. A fifth conference has been organized called the Pittsburgh conference. Several members of the army were discharged today for quarreling over the possession of a sack of tobacco.

A GREAT CONCERT.

Tonight's Concert in Library Hall Will Be Fine.

The Ingleside benefit tonight in Library hall will furnish more good music for fifty cents than can usually be had for ten times the money. Prof. Leib of Kansas City and Mrs. Gled of Topeka, assisted by Mr. Rohr, accompanist, will render a charming programme in a charming manner. The hall has been beautifully decorated and a large and cultured audience will be present. The concert will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

The Editor of the "Blue Grass Blade" to Be Tried for It.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 6.—A special to the Courier-Journal from Lexington says: Rev. E. L. Southgate has served notice on Charles C. Moore, the noted infidel and editor of the Blue Grass Blade, that a suit will be filed against him tomorrow in the circuit court for blasphemy.

Rev. Mr. Southgate visited Editor Moore's office today and selected the following as a specification upon which the charges of blasphemy will be based: "And ye in this land
